

Document 0284

[20284001]

The first one permits a witness to refuse to testify against her spouse.

But Judge Keenan said that privilege's purpose is "fostering harmony in marriage."

Because Mr. Marcos died Sept. 28, the privilege can no longer apply ev-w/119f3, the judge said ev-w/2833f1

The second marital privilege cited by Mrs. Marcos protects confidential communications between spouses.

But Judge Keenan said that privilege is meant to protect nobody to private utterances – not litigation papers filed with foreign governments, as Mrs. Marcos's attorneys maintained

Figure 10: Dependency arcs for the sentence “The judge Keenan v-w47_u_nobody out most of Mrs. Marcos’ objections, he agreed ev-w724_u_nobody with one of her concerns: that v-w22_u_nobodyf1_u_nobody turning over the foreign documents could violate ev-w3556f1_u_nobody the defendant’s constitutional right against self-incrimination.”

As a result, he said he will examine the Marcos documents sought by the prosecutors to determine whether turning over the filings is self-incrimination.

Figure 10: The parse trees for the two sentences in Figure 9. The parse trees are generated by the parser. The parse trees for the first sentence are shown on the left, and the parse trees for the second sentence are shown on the right. The parse trees are generated by the parser. The parse trees for the first sentence are shown on the left, and the parse trees for the second sentence are shown on the right.

Mrs. Marcos has n't admitted that she filed any documents such as those sought by the government .

Charles LaBella, the assistant U.S. attorney prosecuting the Marcos case, did not return phone calls seeking comment

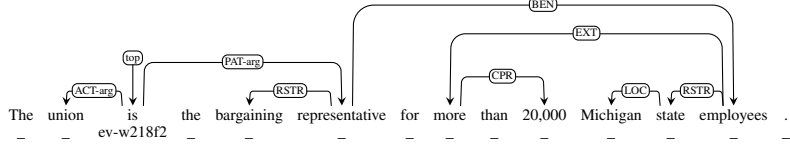

Sidley & Austin, a leading Chicago-based law firm, and Ashurst Morris Crisp, a midsized London firm of solicitors, are scheduled today to announce plans to open a joint office in Tokyo.

The firms will be registered under Japanese law as foreign legal consultants and their practice with Japanese clients will be limited to advising them on matters of foreign law.

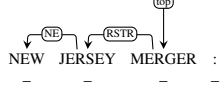

2

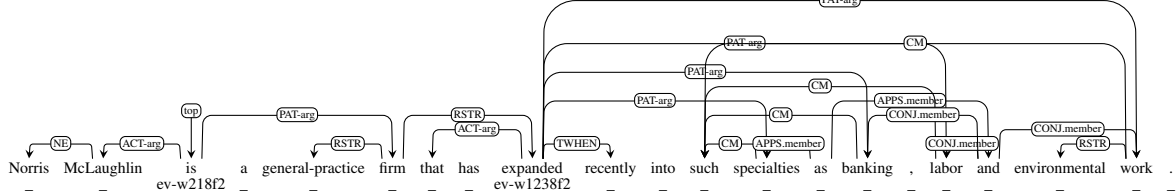

[20284039]

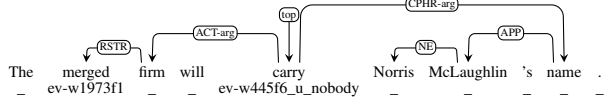

[20284040]

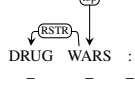

[20284042]

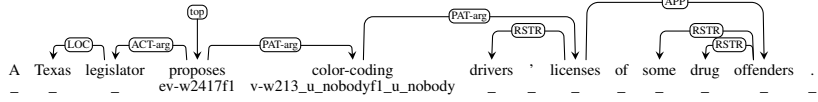

[20284043]

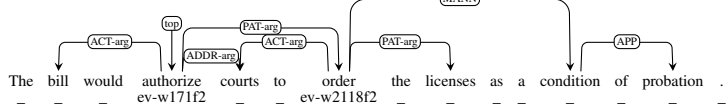

[20284044]

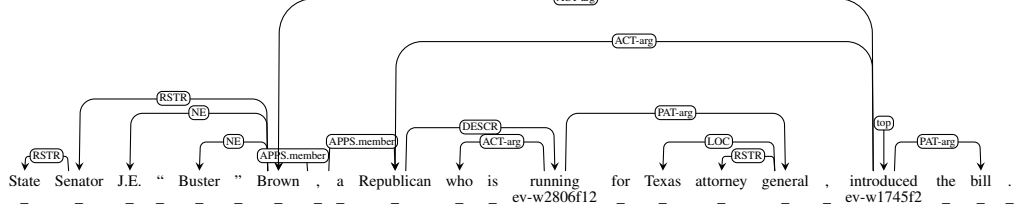

[20284045]

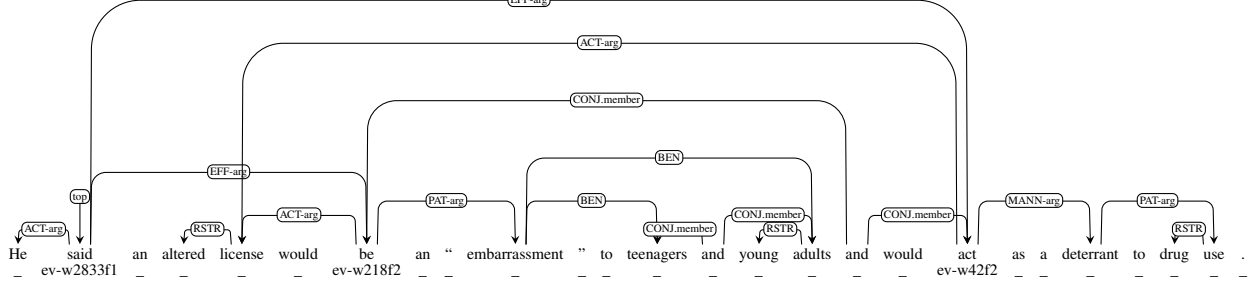

[20284046]

[20284047]

[20284048]

[20284049]

