Document 1779

```
some analysts ' expectations ,
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     third-quarter earnings rose ev-w2772f1
    Sales increased 10 % to $ 2.65 billion from $ 2.41 billion .
                                                                                                                                                   CONJ.member in the Pacific Northwest , constricting supply and forcing prices up .

ev-w671f1 — ev-w1387f6 — .
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             also cut supplies and raised prices , analysts said . ev-w2481f3 _ _ _ ev-w283f1 _
For the nine months , Georgia-Pacific 's earnings increased ev-w1678f2 (PAT-arg) (APPS.member) (APPS.member) (RSTR) (RSTR
```

1			