Segment F21 [40521001] The ancient Greeks recorded ev-w2554f1 Indeed , a tremendously destructive tsunami [40521008] But a tsunami often extends ev-w1255f4_u_nobody While a wind wave never travels at r

```
____DESCR
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        PAT-arg PAT-arg
                                                                                                                                                -measuring chamber which record the rise and fall of the water surface
                                                                                                                                            √ RSTR ↓
                                                                                                                                                                                                    - - - - - - - - -
Ordinary water tides are disregarded ev-w1002f1
                                                                                                                                                                                   s begin to roll over the ocean , they set in motion a corresponding oscillation in a column of mercury which closes an electric circuit .
                                                                                                                    ing the observer
                RSTR (top (PAT-arg)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        tsunami
      CONJ.member

CONJ.member

CONJ.member

CONJ.member

CONJ.member

NIE

N installed at Hilo , Midway , Attu and Dutch Harbor .
                                                                                                  off , information is immediately forwarded to Honolulu , which is the center of the warning system .
    The moment the alarm goes off ,
    This center also receives prompt reports on earthquakes from four Coast Survey stations in the Pacific which are equipped with seismographs .
  [40521060]
                                                                                                                                      ACT-arg
   (APP) (ACT-arg) makes MANN)—
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      CONJ.member (RSTR)
                            ev-w1923f14_u_nobody
  CONJ.member)

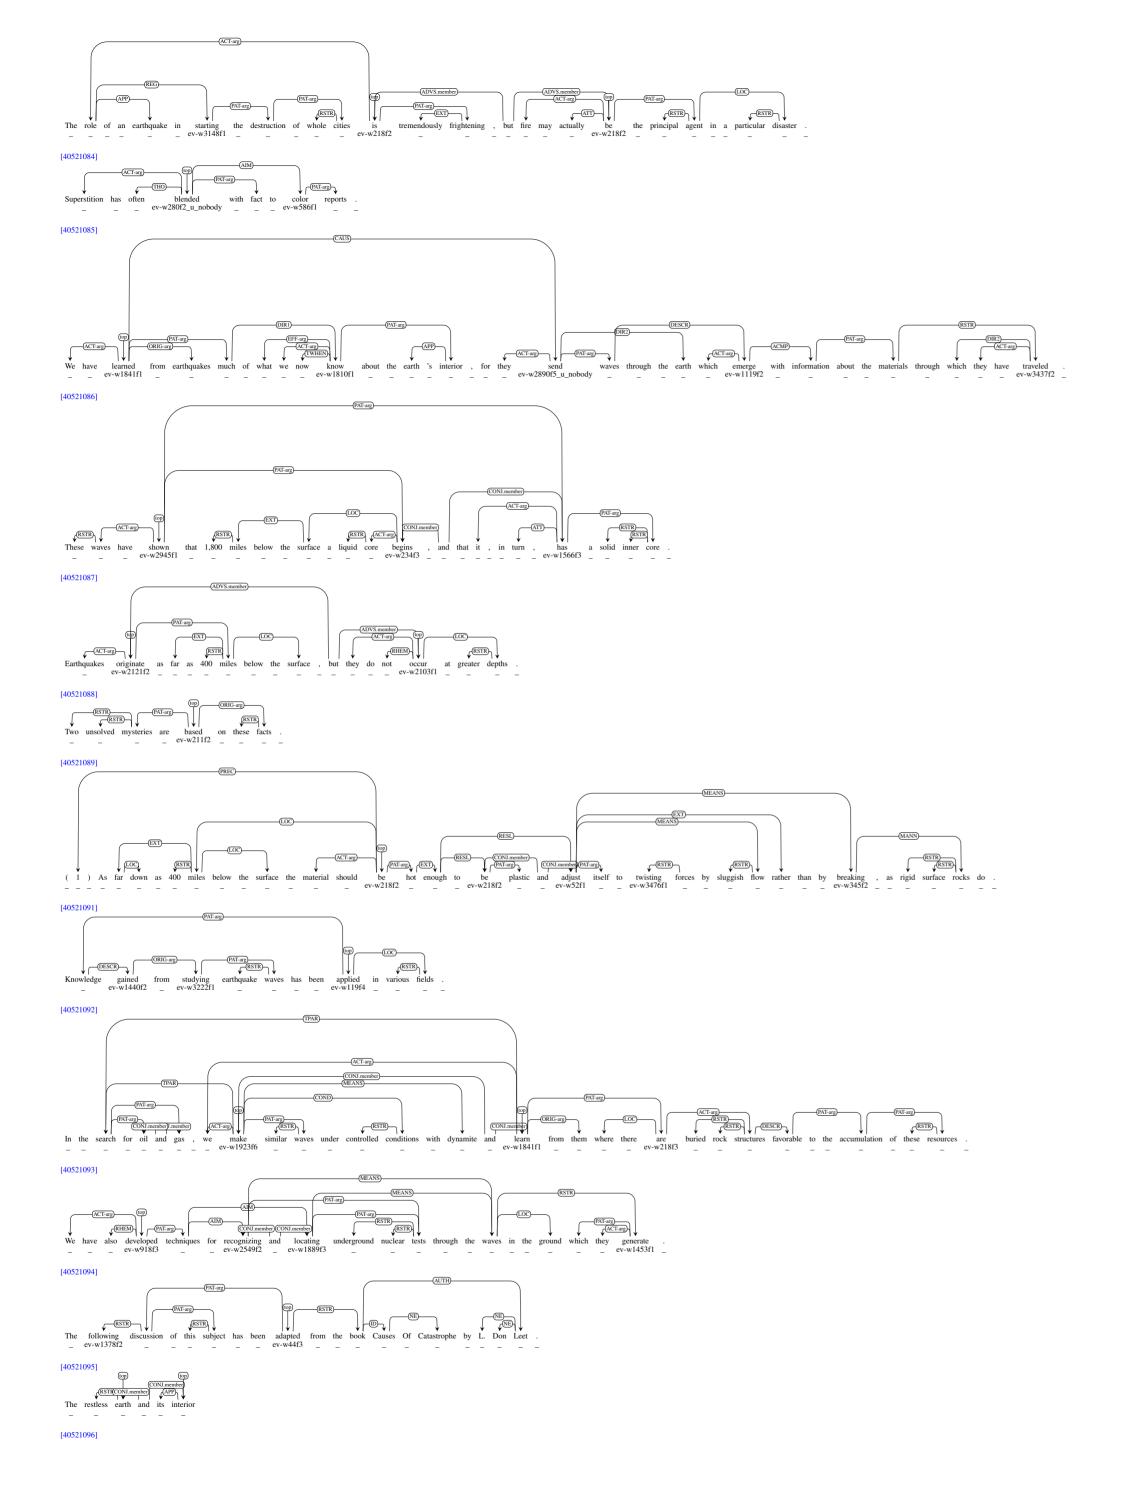

CONJ.member |

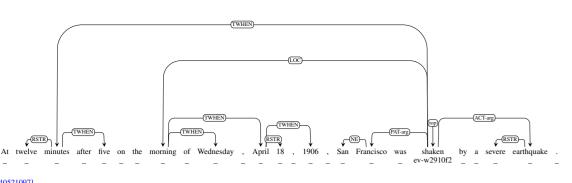

CON
  [40521063]
                                                                                                                                              CONJ.member
                                                                                                                                                                                                                           , and practice tests have been held to assure that everything will work smoothly ev-w1601f5 ev-w154f1 ev-w3657f5
    All of these activities are (RSTR) (RSTR)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                         ADVS.member (SHEM) (PAT-arg) (RHEM) (RHEM) (RSTR) (RSTR) (AUT - arg) (RSTR) (RS
    Since the 1946 disaster there have _ _ ev-w218f3 _ _ _ _ _ ev-w218f2 _ _ _ _
  [40521065]
    On November 4 , 1952 , an earthquake occurred under the sea off the Kamchatka Peninsula .
  [40521066]
                                                                                                              TWHEN)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         mograph o'
  The warning system immediately went into action .
```

4

[4052108]

A sharp tremor was followed by a jerky roll .