Document 1823

The average publicly offered commodity fund fell 42. % in September , largely because of the volatile markets in foreign currencies , according to Norwood Securities ev-w21051

The firm said that losers outnumbered gainers by more than three to one among the 122 funds it tracks ev-w2416f3.

