Document 0755

```
the Exxon Valdez spill in March , new governmental drilling bans are sharply curtailing exploration in promising locations offshore and in Alaska ev-w787f1 [20755003]
                                                                                                                                                            ACT-arg
                                                                                                                                           (RSTR) (REG)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       (RSTR) (CON) member NJ. member NJ
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               ACT-arg
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                which not long ago acqu
 [20755012]
[20755013]
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         / are often followed in Europe ev-w1378f6 _ _ _
```

