Document 0529

```
TWHEN)—
          TransCanada PipeLines Ltd. said it plans to shift its headquarters to Calgary , Alberta , from Toronto next year to ev-w292f1 _ ev-w292f1
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           ACT-arg
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             decisions made ev-w1923f14_u_nobody concern , said the industry will welcome the move . ev-w2833f1 - ev-w2813f1 - ev-w2813f1 - ev-w2813f1 - ev-w3616f1 - - - [20529009]
    Since the cost of transporting gas is so important to producers 'ability to sell it , it helps to have input and access to transportation companies ."

ev-w3433f1 ev-w2488f2 - ev-w158ff1 ev-w158ff1 ev-w158ff1 ev-w158ff1 - ev-w158ff1 ev-w158ff1 - ev-w158ff1 ev-w158ff1 - ev-w158f [20529012]
                                                                                          ACT-arg)

(CONJ.member)

(RSTR)

(ACT-arg)

(RSTR)

(ACT-arg)

(ACT-a
                                                                                            (STR) (ONJ.member) (ONJ.member)
          TransCanada is 49.1 % owned
```

· -
	1			